BRITAIN CLAIMS NAVAL VICTORY

Admiralty Says Germany Lost Eighteen Vessels.

BERESFORD PRAISES BEATTY

London Statement Declares Teutonic Losses in Recent Sea Fight Were Not Only Relatively but Absolutely Greater Than Those of the British.

London, June 5.—The British admiralty issued a statement saying there was the strongest grounds for the belief that the British navy in battle with the Germans off Jutland last week had accounted for a total of eighteen German men-of-war and that there was nothing to add to or subtract from the original statement of the British losses.

The statement gave the German losses as two battleships, two dreadnoughts, battle cruisers, four light cruisers, nine torpedo boat destroyers and a submarine.

The pessimism which prevailed as a result of the admiralty's original statement of losses, which now is considered to have been needlessly candid and conservative in underestimating the extent of the German losses as compared with those of Great Britain, has been greatly lessened by the latest statement.

The admiralty statement declares that the German losses in the fight were not only relatively, but absolutely greater than those of the British. Maintaining its practice of caution the admiralty still refrains from giving the names of the lost German ships.

Many British Officers Perish.

The official list of the casualties among officers shows that hardly a single officer of the line escaped from the British cruisers sunk in the battle.

The British losses in officers were extremely heavy, the list including Rear Admiral Horace Hood, who went down with his flagship, the Invincible; Captain Sowerby of the Indefatigable; Captain Cay of the Invincible; and Captain Prowse of the Queen Mary. The total British losses are estimated at about 5,000.

An additional casualty list of petty officers shows that forty-three of them were saved from the Queen Mary, Invincible, Fortune, Ardent and Shark. None was saved from the Indefatigable, Defence, Black Prince, Tipperary, Turbulent, Nomad or Nes- tor.

Admiral Lord Beatty, in an interview, contended strongly for the view that there was no failure in the British strategy.

Vice Admiral Beatty won a brilliant victory, he declared, though it was dearly bought.

The only mistake made was by the admiralty in allowing the Germans to get first in the field with the news of the battle, or, as he puts it, with "impudent fabrications." Otherwise, said Lord Beatty, no fault can be found with the admiralty.

WOMAN ASKS $1,000,000 FOR HEART BALM.
New York, June 5.—William Edgar Smith, heir to a fortune of more than $5,000,000 and more than fifty-four years old, has been sued for $1,000,000 for alleged breach of promise.
The plaintiff is Cassie Mansfield Doty. This is the largest amount ever demanded in a breach of promise suit.

$25,000 IN GOLD VANISHES

Officials of San Juan Bank Are Completely Mystified.

San Juan, Porto Rico, June 5.—Mystery attaches to the disappearance of $25,000 in gold from the vaults of the Banco Territorial y Agrícola of this city. The bank authorities have replaced this money out of their personal funds.

According to a statement issued by the officials the gold, in five bags of $5,000 each, was last counted last December.

FIVE ARE SHOT BY BANDIT

One Dead, Four Wounded, in Madison, Ill., Saloon.

Madison, Ill., June 5.—One man was killed and a woman and three men were wounded by three bandits who attempted to hold up a saloon here.

The bandits entered the saloon and began shooting when the proprietor, Timna Cluski, refused to hold up his hands.

The bandits escaped.

COLONEL CHURCHILL.

Says British Supremacy on the Sea Is Unshaken.

London, June 5.—Great Britain still holds undisputed supremacy of the seas, in the judgment of Winston Spencer Churchill, whose opinions on naval matters are eagerly sought in England.

U. S. OFFICER KILLED AT SANAO DOMINGO

Washington, June 5.—Captain Herbert J. Hirschinger of the United States marine corps was shot and killed during the landing of American forces at Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo. In reporting this to the navy department Rear Admiral Caperton, in command of the American forces at the revolution torn republic, explained that there was slight promiseous firing from shore during the landing and a shot struck Captain Hirschinger in the head. He died three hours later.

Captain Hirschinger was forty-two years old, a native of Georgia, and entered the corps in 1910 from North Carolina.

He leaves a widow and young daughter, living in Boston.

THREE PERISH IN SANDPIT

Children Are Suffocated When Earth Caves In.

La Crosse, Wis., June 5.—Playing in a sandpit William, George and Mary Netsdorf, ten, three and six years old, respectively, children of John Netsdorf, a farmer near Hustler, were suffocated when the sand caved in and buried them.

The parents missed the children at meal time. They called them without response. Becoming alarmed they telephoned to neighbors and soon a searching party of seventy-five was scouring the country. After a long and fruitless hunt some one suggested the sandpit.

Searchers, by the light of lanterns, dug where it appeared the ledge had caved in and soon brought the bodies to the surface.

FIRE ON FRISCO BAY FRONT

Five Thousand Tons of Freight and Pier Are Destroyed.

San Francisco, June 5.—Five thousand tons of freight from the Orient, unloaded on the water front here from the Shinyo Maru No. 2, a Japanese freighter, and a pier recently erected by the state were destroyed in a spectacular blaze of unknown origin.

The Shinyo and the General Forbes, another freighter, tied to the pier, were damaged slightly before being towed out of the fire's reach. Steamship men estimate the total loss at about $800,000.

TO TAKE OVER POSTAL BANK

Act Introduced in Senate Proposes Industrial Savings.

Washington, June 5.—In a proposed industrial savings act Senator Shepherd of Texas provides for the creation of an industrial savings bank to take over and control the existing postal savings bank. Details of administration, however, are to remain in the postoffice department.

Pittsburg Court Disposes of Cases of Those Arrested at Braddock.

Pittsburg, June 5.—Fred H. Merrick, indicted in connection with the Westinghouse strike and the Braddock riots of May 2, was found guilty of inciting to riot and of riot. Ten of the other nineteen defendants were found guilty of riot. The others were acquitted.

HUGHES BOOM SEEMS IN LEAD MANAGER PREDICTS NOMINATION

German Civilians Must Not Eat Meat for Eight Weeks on Account of Scarcity in Empire

Tales of Horror Brought from Scene of Naval Battle Preclude Return of Missing Sailors

Hughes Boom Assumes a Commanding Lead

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—The situation this afternoon seems to be that the Hughes boom has assumed a commanding lead and the progressive leaders privately admitted that there was a sharp slump in the Roosevelt boom. The fact that Frank Hitchcock has used actual figures in tabulating the Hughes strength looked good, for Hitchcock is usually conservative.

Roosevelt Drive on Hughes Seen

(By United Press)

Oyster Bay, June 5.—A Roosevelt drive on Hughes is seen in the statement by Lucien Bonheur, a progressive leader, calling upon Hughes for a statement regarding his German-American support, which states that he must now give the public an idea as to how he now stands or admit he is the German-American candidate.

LaFollette to be Candidate Again

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—Senator LaFollette will for the third time be a candidate for the presidential nomination, and will be placed in nomination as Wisconsin's favorite son. Four years ago he had a spectacular pre-convention fight, broke with Roosevelt and was steam-rollered out for Taft.

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—The old guard have made their first proffer to the progressives. The republicans want Hughes if he can be the winner at the fall election, and would put him at the head of an amalgamation ticket on any platform the progressives might dictate. While not belittling the power of the progressives they doubt if Roosevelt could be elected even on an amalgamated ticket against Wilson. The old guard plan to let the progressives nominate Hughes early Wednesday and then the republicans would nominate him on Thursday and thus the progressives could claim that they forced the republicans to select the same leader that they did.

States Justice Hughes Certain of Nomination

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—Frank Hitchcock has issued a statement in which he says that Justice Hughes is certain of the nomination for president on one of the early ballots, and says that Hughes will get more votes on the first ballot than the combined strength of the favorite sons.

Roosevelt will not Be at Convention

Chicago, June 5.—John McGrath, who pronounces R. McGraw, Roosevelt's secretary, stated absolutely that Theodore Roosevelt would not be present at Chicago during the convention.

Waukegan, Ill., June 5.—The thirteenth venire of 100 men, making a total of 1,100 already subpoenaed, reported for the opening of the 17th day of the Orpet murder trial.

Visit is Significant

(By United Press)

El Paso, June 5.—Gen. Pershing is reported as contemplating a visit to Columbus, N. M., and as this is the first time the commander has recrossed the border since the punitive expedition started it is considered significant.

Germans must not Eat Meat for Eight Weeks

(By United Press)

Berlin, May 27.—Delayed telegram—Civilians in Germany must not eat meat for eight weeks, Adolph Batocki, Germany's new food dictator holding one of the most important positions in the empire, told the United Press today. He says the order will cause slight discomfort but there is little chance for starvation in Germany. The cattle are lean now owing to the poor harvest last year and the cattle are not in condition to butcher yet.

(The above interview is a frank statement of Germany's food situation, and was delayed in transmission, probably while being studied by the German censor.)

TALES OF AWFULNESS BROUGHT FROM SCENE

(By United Press)

London, June 5.—The tales of awfulness brought from the scene of the naval battle are slowly crushing the hopes of members of the sailors' families that their husbands and sons might be among the saved and return. The continued insistence of the admiralty is that the Germans lost more than is admitted.

HOT INFANTRY ATTACKS

(By United Press)

Paris, June 5.—An official statement says that the Germans launched several hot infantry attacks against Vaux last night, using liquid fire. They were repulsed elsewhere, the fighting being heavy with the Germans unable to gain any headway.

Answer to Carranza

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson has begun his draft of reply to Carranza's note and expects to have it ready before Thursday, possible forestalling criticism expected at the Chicago convention.

DEMANDS HUGHES STATE HIS POSITION

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 5.—The first demand direct from Sagamore Hill that Justice Charles E. Hughes tell the people frankly his attitude concerning problems agitating the political leaders and the delegates to the Republican national convention was made in the form of a statement by Lucien Bonheur, Progressive leader of Long Island, and given out by him to correspondents after a conference with the colonel.

The action of the German-American alliance in notifying the Republican convention that it would not countenance the nomination of either Roosevelt or Root was the basis of the declaration. Mr. Bonheur called upon Justice Hughes to tell where he stands in regard to this action or accept the position of appearing before the people as the candidate of the alliance.

"Justice Hughes can keep silent about many things, but when faced with that issue he has no business to be silent. Otherwise he is the candidate of the German-American alliance," he said.

GERMAN DRIVE IS FAVORABLE

Make Further Gains in Vicinity of Verdun.

TAKE OVER 500 PRISONERS

Berlin Announces Four Machine Guns Are Also Captured From the French. British Fail in Effort to Retake Positions Lost Near Ypres.

Berlin, June 5.—The German drive on the Verdun front between the Caillotte wood and Damloup, northeast of the fortress, is progressing favorably for the attacking forces, the war office announced. The capture of more than 500 prisoners and four machine guns is reported.

Attempts by British to regain the ground they recently lost to the Germans near Ypres, on the Flanders front, were fruitless.

WAR TAX DRAWS PROTEST

Berlin Artists' Association Sees Injustice to Painters.

Berlin, June 5.—In the name of the Berlin Artists' association its president, Rudolf Schulte, has protested vigorously to the authorities against the recent ruling that the "war profits tax" shall apply to all receipts of more than 1,000 marks accruing from paintings.

The whole tendency of such a ruling, Professor Schulte contends, will be to depress automatically the prices of art to a point below 1,000 marks, and thus work injustice and injury to aspiring and ambitious artists or to the families of men who have died recently and who are dependent upon the returns from inherited paintings.

FRENCH APPEAR SATISFIED

Interpret Recent Naval Battle as British Success.

Paris, June 5.—The battle between the British and German fleets is the absorbing topic in all quarters. The Temps says it is the first naval battle really worthy of that name and adds: "While the British losses were great they occurred mainly before the heavy British ships arrived and compelled the Germans to take flight. Under these conditions, however heavy the British losses may be, the superiority of the British fleet remains intact."

The Journal Des Debats says: "The battle showed that the era of big ships is past. The British sea power is not seriously endangered or diminished by this engagement."

SOLEMN PARADE FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chicago, June 5.—The greatest parade ever held in Chicago finished after 230,214 persons, one-sixth of whom were women, had filed through the streets in the preparedness demonstration.

The parade was eleven and a half hours in passing.

The night divisions were made up largely of military organizations, which included all branches of the army and navy service.

The great parade, in close order, massed from curb to curb, rolled like a tide through the streets all day. It was as if the great skyscrapers were the banks of a river and the marching thousands, each with an American flag, the current moving between them.

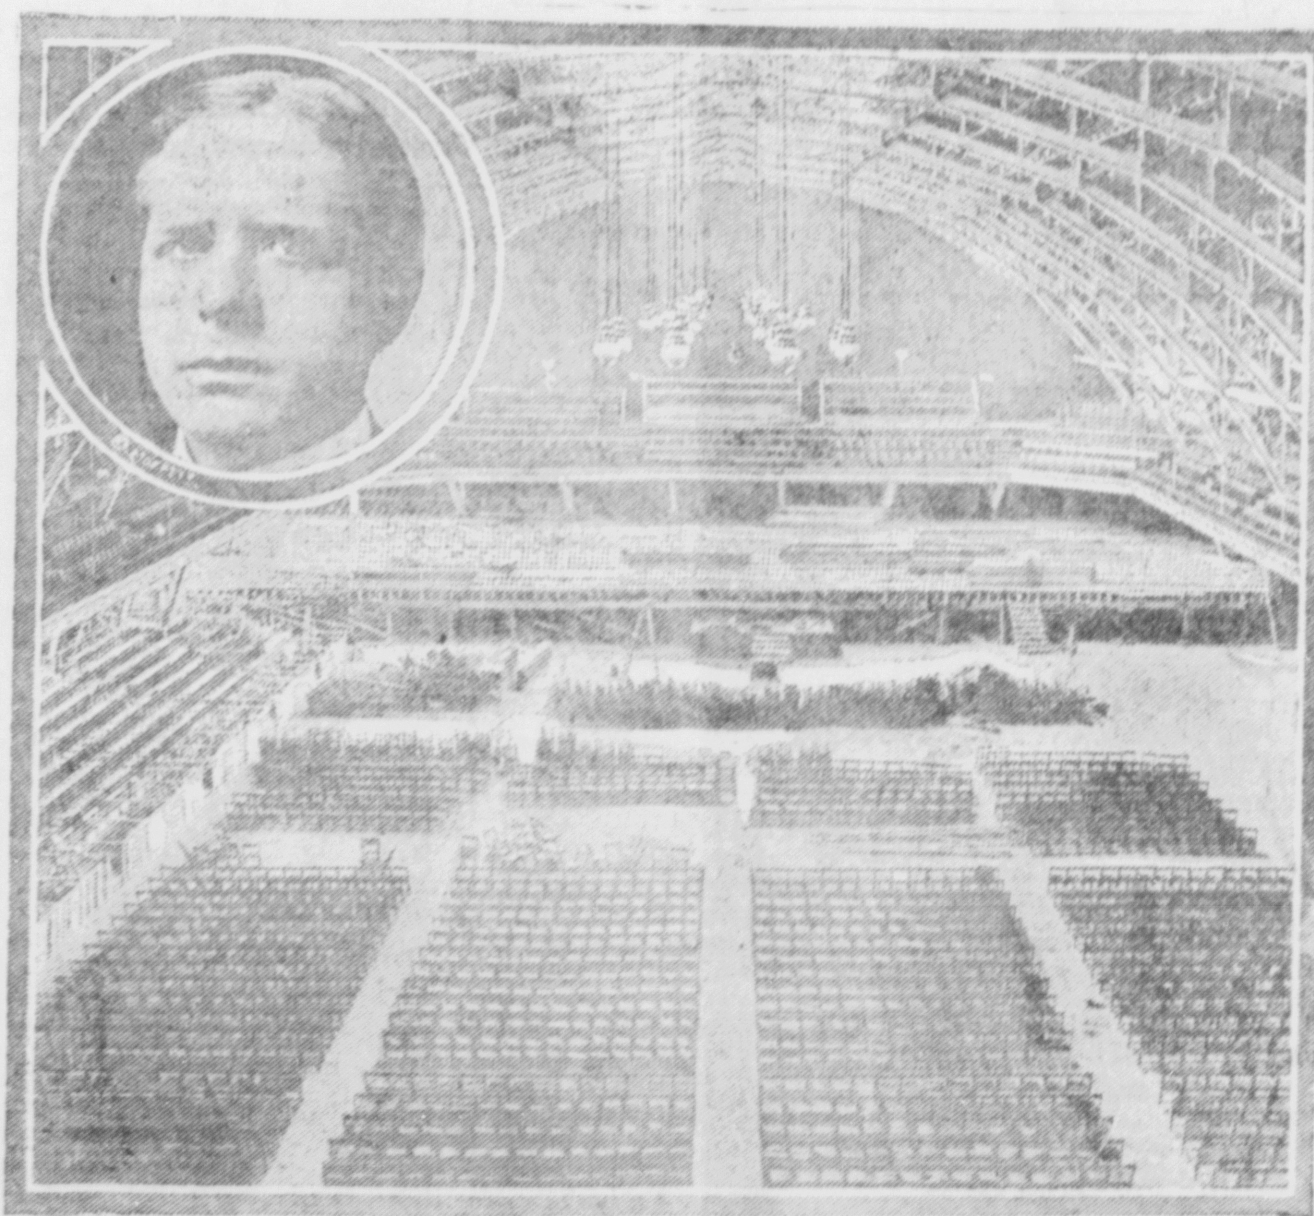

It impressed by its bulk and by the absence to a large extent of the hilarity accompanying most parades. There were no floats, no comic costumes and little of the holiday spirit apparent. The airs played by the bands either were patriotic or military.

Patriotic songs were sung, hummed or whistled—for few knew the words.

SEVEN-YEAR FEUD ENDS IN KILLING.

Globe, Ariz., June 5.—A dispute over mining claims that began seven years ago between William Sparks, a pioneer prospector and former sergeant of the Arizona rangers, and Frank Thompson, a wealthy mining man, terminated on the main street of Globe when Sparks shot and instantly killed Thompson.

Sparks surrendered to the authorities and said he shot because Thompson had been threatening his life.

BASEBALL NOTES

Mrs. Al Victor, wife of the Ironton pitcher, interviewed before the game, said: "I don't know who is going to win. Mr. Victor hasn't said a word.
Of course, I'm praying for victory."

Vai Marlowski, who has never missed a ball game in the last five years, and regularly occupies a seat in the bleachers near third base, was working Sunday and left a call with his wife. The clock was at 2:45 when she called him and minus his regular shave he rushed to the grounds just when Kruger came to bat, leading off for Ironton.

The grand stand was filled and the bleachers too to see Ironton and Brainerd battle for supremacy. Ironton sent over 20 cars or more, commandeering every car in the range town and borrowing some from Crosby, their next door neighbor.

All the Elks from the range came to town to see the game.

T. P. Mulvaney of Ironton, saw the game.

A. H. Proctor, cashier of the First National bank, was very confident that Ironton would come out from under and win at the finish.

It was a clean contest, free from any bickering and every man on the Ironton team is a perfect gentleman.
"Not a cross word was spoken by either side," said one of the lady fans present.

"Swede" Erickson, Brainerd's second baseman, was a wonder coaching in Swede.

Victor, formerly Brainerd's pitcher, was the butt of a lot of good natured joshing and was asked how he could survive in Ironton where no
Cyclone club was in session.

The mascot of the Ironton team was little LeRoy Ellingson, son of
G. P. Ellingson.

Superior is playing winning ball,
but is having a hard time to get gate receipts. A sport note in the Superior Telegram says: "The fans have things July 1.

BRITISH ORDER HITS
AMERICAN EXPORTS

London, June 5.—The latest order in council curtailing imports, which will become effective June 8, strikes a severe blow at American exporters, as most of the articles on the list are imported chiefly from America, the only exceptions being beer from Denmark and matches from Switzerland.

The United States also suffers more than other countries because in the case of food cargoes from America but few exemptions are granted.

The latest restrictive order is tempered for American exporters by news that the restrictions on the importations of starch and dextrin, which is shipped in enormous quantities from America, has been removed as the result of protests by the Manchester cloth manufacturers.

"Starvation Doctor" Pardoned.

Seattle, June 5.—Mrs. Linda Burmas after serving two years of an indeterminate sentence for manslaughter, has been given a full pardon and restoration of her civil rights by Governor Ernest Lister.

TO PATROL FORESTS WITH NAVAL PLANES

St. Paul, June 5.—Hydroaeroplanes of the United States navy will be used by the Minnesota forestry department for patrolling the reserves in the northern part of the state, according to an announcement made by William T. Cox, state forester.

"The plan by which use of government hydroaeroplanes can be made by the forestry department of the state is not a new one," Mr. Cox said. "We have been corresponding with the navy department since before the war started and there is reason to believe our plan will go through since the bill providing for more planes has been passed."

The navy department will detail officers and two hydroaeroplanes to the naval militia station at Duluth.

Rangers of the forestry department will enlist in the militia and while being trained in the use of the machines will patrol the 5,000,000 acres of state forest.

WORLD'S FASHION NOTES

Many Very Smart and Interesting Things Brought Out in Country Clothes

Many very smart and interesting things are being brought out in country clothes.

For instance a garden skirt of rose and white striped linen with a great oblong pocket across the front which may be unbuttoned to kneel upon when gardening. It is to be noted that the smartest women choose conservative lines in daytime apparel for country wear even in this season of puffs and ruffles. The bouffant silhouette is reserved almost entirely for evening frocks.

Interest in the sweater waxes not in the least.

With the younger set the slip-on sweater is distinctly a fad. This may be drawn over the head after a game of tennis and worn with a boyish nonchalance which appeals especially to the debutante. A well-known New York house, which has a reputation for exceedingly smart millinery, sponsors a sweater designed for golf, made of green knitted wool and sleeved after the fashion of a jockey's coat with green satin.

From Zyrat et Cie, one of the smartest millinery shops in London, have recently been imported a number of fascinating little bonnets.

One made of pink linen is intended for gardening. It is small and fits close to the head, coming well down over the ears, but in order that the wearer may not be deaf to the world, piece of transparent pink linen are inset just above the ears.

Another pink sun bonnet which comes with a garden smock to match is fastened with a whalebone so that it stands out in great points at each side and from point to point across the back drops a graceful frill of the linen. A direct copy of one of the Victorian bonnets seen in some of the old masters is made of leg-horn with streamers and a tiny brim of green-blue velvet, a fluff of blue-blue plume, and a crimson and blue rose.—From H. W. Gossard Corset Co., courtesy H. P. Michael Co.

WILSON APPROVES CHOICE

Ollie James Will Be Permanent Democratic Chairman.

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson has approved the tentative selection of Senator Ollie James of Kentucky for permanent chairman of the Democratic convention at St. Louis. This assures the election of the senator by the convention.

Senator James thus will head the committee which will notify Mr. Wilson of his nomination, as he did after the Baltimore convention. Senator Stone of Missouri has been tentatively decided upon as chairman of the platform committee.

Paul Revere.

Paul Revere's memory will always be honored because of the warning he carried to the patriots at Lexington and Concord, but that was by no means his only service to the colonies. He was one of the prime movers in the Boston tea party and also engaged in what proved an unsuccessful expedition against the British post on the Penobscot in 1779. In private life Revere was a copper plate engraver and an artist. He made many caricatures illustrative of pre-Revolutionary topics, printed the provincial paper money of Massachusetts in 1775 and in the same year built a mill for the manufacture of gunpowder.

STUDY YOUR BALLOT

One week from next Monday the people of Minnesota will be called upon to say by their ballot who shall be the candidates of the several parties for the different offices to be filled by election in November of this year. The candidates for president of the United States are selected in convention but the state, county, congressional and legislative nominees in Minnesota are made at a primary election. One of the most important offices to be filled is that of congressman and the people of the Sixth district should carefully study who would best serve them, who would be best equipped to transact the business of this great and growing district at the seat of the national legislature, a district that is recognized for its agricultural, manufacturing and mining interests—one of the greatest of the districts in the northwest for that matter. Matters of importance will come up during the next session of congress that will be of vital interest to the Sixth district and it is to the interest of every voter in the district, and especially to those financially concerned, those who have their homes located in this section of Minnesota to see that a man is sent to congress who is in every way capable of protecting their interest and who is in touch with the methods and machinery at the nation capital that we receive every benefit that would naturally come to this section if proper attention is given the subject. It is to the interest of every farmer, every business man, every laborer and civilian that C. B. Buckman is nominated at the June 19 primaries as the standard bearer of the republican party. Mr. Buckman will go to congress as a free agent, and will have the interests of his constituents at heart and he will be free to act to the advantage of the people. His previous experience will place him in a position to be at once available and his services will be of value. His nomination is practically assured, but the people should make it doubly so by studying their ballot on Monday, June 19th, and see that an X mark is placed opposite his name.

BUCKMAN SENTIMENT GROWING

The Bemidji Pioneer says: "It appears that the sentiment in favor of C. B. Buckman for congress is growing as the primaries approach." This statement was made to a Pioneer representative by W. H. Ryan of Little Falls, who has been spending the past week in the city as the guest of B. W. Lakin. Mr. Ryan has practically covered the entire Sixth district on an automobile trip. "There seems to be a favorable sentiment for Mr. Buckman in both city and country," said Mr. Ryan. "He is well known nationally and has shown that he can accomplish things for this district, which assurance is gaining him many supporters.

"Of course, we of Little Falls know him so well and believe in him so thoroughly that we can't see why others would hesitate. One thing all classes may be assured of is that if elected he will represent them all, and do it in a manner which, I am sure, will be beyond criticism."

Denver Abandons Commission Form

(By United Press)

Denver, Colo., June 5—Denver has just overthrown the commission form of government after three years' trial. The city today is under the former mayorality scheme.

The change was made at a special election held last month, Robert W. Speer being elected mayor on a charter amendment which was the anti-thesis of commission government. Instead of five commissioners, Mayor Speer is the government. While the legislative power under the new charter is vested in a councilmanic board of nine members, Speer appointed four of them. The other five were chosen in a manner novel for a city of Denver's size. The Denver Civic and Commercial association, the Trades assembly, the Real Estate Exchange, the Rotary Club and the Manufacturers' association each elected a councilman. This plan was followed to save the people the cost of an election. Future boards will be elected by popular vote. The new charter created an Industrial Bureau to encourage industries and the employment of labor. A "Mayor's Cabinet" was created, consisting of the mayor, the manager of improvement and parks, the manager of revenue, the manager of health and charity and the manager of safety and excise. Speer appointed these heads of departments. Division of responsibility caused the downfall of the local commission government. The people wanted a centralized authority and responsibility.

Germany's Young Navy

BY J. W. T. MASON

Written for the United Press
New York, June 5—The result of the Skagerak naval battle will add new prestige to the growing record of Germany's young navy. It will have a stimulating moral effect upon the Germans and must depress the British nation because of the large disparity in losses. But the major purposes of the opposing navies in the present war is to keep trade routes open for friendly merchantmen and close them to enemy merchantmen. The success of the German fleet in the Skagerak will not open the German ports to the trade of the world. Not a pound of meat nor a barrel of flour, because of the engagement, and because of this reason the military effect of the clash of the battle squadrons cannot be called of major importance.

More complete details suggest that the British cruiser squadron was led into a German trap. Unless the battle was an accidental meeting of the opposing forces, which is not probable it seems likely that a new policy of observation close to German waters was being put into operation by the British admiralty. After the dash on the British east coast last April, it was announced that new dispositions of the British fleet was being made to prevent such adventures in the future.

The British cruiser squadron in the Skagerak may have been acting under this new policy. If this interpretation be correct then the Germans saw their opportunity. The Skagerak is so near to German home waters as to permit the German fleet putting in a surprise appearance.

In the maneuver, such as this, the British cruisers could be caught by a superior force and would be largely at the enemy's mercy until the arrival of rescuing dreadnaughts which would restore superiority to the British fleet. This may well be what occurred.

TALKS ON THRIFT

The Thrift Habit—A Composite Virtue—Not a Dying Reformation

The trouble with a great many people is they expect to acquire good habits in old age, while they spend most of their youth in cultivating bad ones. It is so easy to postpone doing the things that are hard until tomorrow, and so easy to drift along today. Not only is Hell paved with good intentions, but the pathway of the average man is strewn with the wrecks of good intentions. The whole scheme of right living contemplates that man should not put off until tomorrow the things he should do today.

One of the habits we hope to acquire some time is the habit of thrift. This habit often comes late in life—not always from choice but often from necessity. Having satisfied habits that are destructive, when the passions are burned out of a decaying mind and body, men find themselves more or less free from temptations, and mistake a flickering flame for a ripening virtue. Any habit which is forced is likely to find itself in an unhealthy environment, and becomes meaningless in its practice.

Before you can practice a virtue, you must desire the results which that virtue brings, and understand the process through which it comes. Many a man has gone to his doom because he hoped to stop drinking, or spending, or gambling, some day, but his hope never got to the point of action.

Frequently you will find standing alone, or in groups, on a wind-swept plain, trees with no branches on what the sailor would call the "windward side" and leaning sharply in the direction in which the wind blows. This has been no sudden process. For years the north wind has blown gently or fiercely against the tree, so that little by little it became distorted in shape, until it has become its habit to grow lopsided.

No bad habit is acquired in an instant—it is a subtle process, little by little becoming so fixed that the nature becomes distorted, like the tree, battling in vain against an adverse wind.

If this habit of thrift is to be a wholesome, sweet, and fruitful one, it must be acquired while the body is healthy, and the mind vigorous. It must not be a dying reformation. Its best work can be done when the resisting power is strongest, and the future, it may be, afar off.

No man ever becomes a spendthrift at a single leap. The wasteful habits which he allows to grow become so fixed that, struggle as he may, and wish as hard as he might, he cannot change his nature. Old age may compel thriftiness because there is nothing more to waste, but the saddest commentary on human life is to find at the close nothing stored up of energy, money, or property, for which the best years of life have been given.

Thrift is a composite virtue. It includes the desirable attributes of economy, self denial and saving; but it is no relative to niggardiness or meanness. The man who would let his grandmother starve is not a thrifty man, but a brute. Any virtue carried to extremes becomes undesirable and no longer a virtue. The thrift that does not make a man charitable sours into avarice. Thrift means better homes, better citizens, more comforts, more enjoyment, little waste, little anxiety—peace. Out of it grows productive energy, steady courage, opportunity, independence, self respect, almsfulness in life, manhood. It is the one material habit that has no shady side. It is acquired little by little—a steady pressure (in the right direction) until it becomes second nature to save and thrift becomes a habit.

PROUD OF GERMAN FLEET

Message From Kaiser Read in the Prussian Diet.

Amsterdam, June 5.—A telegram from Emperor William in reply to a message of congratulation upon the "grand victory of our high seas fleet over a greatly superior English battle fleet" was read at a sitting of the Prussian diet by Count Chbwerin, the president.

"With you," said the emperor, "I am proud of our mighty fleet, which by this feat of arms has proved it is an even match for a superior enemy."

Sets at Rest Rumors Social Distinction

(By United Press)

Plattsburg, N. Y., June 5—Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, wants it made clear that the training camp which opened here today is for every American citizen who wishes to be of aid to his country in case of war. He called reporters to his headquarters to set at rest rumors that there was or would be, any social distinction whatever shown in recruiting men for the camp.

"Preparedness," said Major-General Wood, "has caught on. So far more than 2,000 business men and others have signed for the Plattsburg camp this year. Among these there are a great number of college students. Princeton is leading with the largest enrollment of the colleges. We expect to have between 20,000 and 25,000 men here this year. The summer instruction camp idea is favored by many persons who cannot join us. A woman wrote me recently offering to pay the expenses of eight young men at Plattsburg. I have received many letters asking for an opportunity to help in this way. As two weeks is not long enough to acquire a man with the necessary training for service, I wish to urge employers to extend vacations of their employees who are at the camp to a month. This seems the least time in which to instruct properly a man in the duties and requirements of a soldier. The governors of Virginia and South Carolina appointed committees in the cities and town of the states to organize groups for the camp and their representations is large.

WAS IDEAL DAY FOR SHOOTING

George E. Trent, Jr., and Frank Novotny, of St. Paul, Tie for Second Place with 186

Saturday, June 3, was an ideal day for the Riverside Gun club shoot. There was a little rain which settled the dust. Good scores were made and the meet was notable on account of the large number of visitors which it attracted.

Heading the amateurs were George R. Kepler of Perham, and Dr. F. H. Allen, of Staples, who tied for first place with 191 out of 200.

George E. Trent, Jr., of Brainerd and Frank Novotny, of St. Paul, tied for second place among the amateurs, scoring 186 out of 200.

Shoots on the program this week are Thief River Falls on June 6 and Warren on June 7. The state shoot will be held at Aitkin June 12 and 13, at which time the diamond badge donated by the old board of trade of St. Paul, will be shot for. E. J. Goward, of Aitkin, is the present holder and won it twice, but not in succession. George E. Trent, Sr., also had the badge, but did not win it twice in succession. A. C. White, of Brainerd, held the badge one year. It is a great honor to be contested for, and in all these years no one has fulfilled the requirements to gain permanent possession of the coveted trophy.

Public Affairs Committee Chamber of Commerce and Brainerd Musical Club Have Plan

TO ELIMINATE YELLOW TERROR

Details and Announcement of Requirements Governing Campaign in Tuesday's Dispatch

Brainerd is to be rid of its dandelions in a manner that will be profitable to both the property owners of the city and the younger generation who are to be called upon to dig up the dandelion vines, root and all, which now grace our beautiful lawns but growing more profusely on vacant lots.

Through the cooperation of the public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce together with ladies of the Brainerd Musical club, a plan has been worked out that should be efficient and obtain lasting results. Boys and girls, men and women of the city will be asked to enter into the campaign from both a financial and civic pride point of view.

Anyone, living in the city, will be paid the sum of ten cents per bushel of dandelion plants and the only requirement is that they be dug within the city limits and that roots be attached to the plant. So thickly have these plants grown as a result of the wet spring that many lawns or grassy plots in the city are covered with an army of yellow blossoms which will soon grow to seed and be blown to every quarter of the city only to take root and grow ten times as thick.

Details and announcement of requirements governing the campaign will be printed in Tuesday's Dispatch and with Fourth of July but a month off, it is expected the committee will have its hands full taking care of the many bushel baskets of dandelions that will be delivered to them.

BRAINERD 3, IRONTON 1

Ironton Succumbs to the Pitching of Noel, Catching of Pehle, and Superior Hitting

GAME TIED IN 5TH INNING

Pehle's Work at the Stick, His Single and Triple, Shoved in the Winning Runs

Brainerd beat Ironton 3 to 1 Sunday before one of the largest crowds of the season, and found Al Victor, its former pitcher, for 8 hits.

Noel, of Western League fame, and "Wild Bill" Pehle, of Minneapolis, were a grand battery for Brainerd and they were hitting too. Noel getting two hits and Pehle's single shoving in one run and his triple the other two scores made by Brainerd. In the fifth inning Pehle's single scored Stallman. In the seventh his long three-bagger brought in Bush and Stallman.

Noel had a clear record, 9 strikeouts, no passed balls, no wild pitches. He ran bases well.

Ironton loaded up for the game. Russ, of Verndale, played first base. Three Superior men, Salo, Tollers and Daley, held down respectively center field, catcher and second base positions. In spite of all this preparation, Brainerd dug right into them and won out.

Ironton played with snap. Witness their lightning double play, made in the second inning, which drew applause from Brainerd fans too. Noel had got a hit. Imgrund fanned. Bush hit into the double play, which flashed from Paulson, shortstop, to Daley on second, to Russ on first.

Ironton got the first run on errors. Grimstad pegged one near Stallman and the third baseman whipped a low ball to Cook and the runner was safe. Paulson made a sacrifice hit and advanced Grimstad. On Cook's peg to third the ball bounded from Stallman and Grimstad fled for home.

Brainerd came back strong in the fifth and tied the score. Stallman made up for his fumbles and got a single past first. Clark sacrificed with a bunt and advanced Stallman. Erickson went out, short to first. Pehle came to bat and in the pinch showed his mettle, his single through second scoring Stallman.

There was no more scoring for Ironton. In the lucky seventh Brainerd started off well. Bush hit near left field. Stallman bunted. The ball was fielded by Victor who made a wild throw to second and both runners were safe and a double play was spoiled. Bratton fanned. Erickson flew to Grimstad, on third base. Pehle was the boy for the crisis again. He hit the ball a mighty swat for three bases and drove in Bush and Stallman.

Little Falls is expected to play Brainerd here next Sunday, June 11.

A West Philadelphia woman is still smarting over the "compliment" that a guest paid her when she was hostess at an entertainment a week ago. The West Philadelphia woman, whose name is not Brown, prides herself especially on her coffee, and she made some of her best for this occasion.

Among the guests was a woman who makes it a practice always to compliment persons with whom she comes in contact. She says it makes others feel pleasant and doesn't hurt her. During the refreshments this guest turned to the woman whose name is not Brown and said:

"Was anyone in the corridor?"
"Yes. A kid was walking along towards the stairs and Daniels was standing by the door of the gray suite with one hand on the knob and with his ear flat against the panel."

"How long did he stand there?"
"Oh, a minute or so. At first I thought he was going to open the door. Then he shrugged his shoulders and walked a step away. Just then I thought I heard the sound of a window being closed and I ran towards my window. Before I got there, though, there was a scream and a shot and I ran out into the hall instead. Old Daniels was beating it down the corridor and Mr. Langdon here was standing at the door of the gray room."

"Did you join the crowd about the door?"
"Of course I did. I was one of the first to get into the room."

"Was the window still open?"
"No." The witness was very emphatic. Her mouth shut in a tight line.
"Now—be careful, Miss Hale—are you sure of that?"
"Sure? Of course I'm sure. One window was open, yes. The one to the left hand side of the room, but the other one, the one through which I had heard the talk, was closed. I'm dead sure of it—dead sure."

"Miss Hale, you say you were one of the first to enter the room. Will you describe exactly what you saw?" Langdon moved nearer to her, and himself listened attentively.

"I saw the body of Jim Pollock lying face down on the floor with a dribble of blood coming from under him, and a little ways off Mary Page lying in a dead faint, with her face all twisted up, like a person with a stroke. Mr. Langdon was lifting her up in his arms. Daniels was there, and the pretty boy that played the lead in the Page company. There was one of the hotel officials, too."

The memory of the ghastly scene did not disturb her at all. She was as calm as though she had been entertaining visitors at home.

"But you did NOT see, did you, the short man whom Pollock had been haranguing a few moments before?" The question was sharp and direct.

"No. Unless it was either you, Mr. Langdon, or Mr. Daniels. There was no other man there whom it could have been."

"Was the voice you heard mine? Speak frankly."

"No. Unless you've changed your elocution teacher." There was a slight titter. "It was kind of thick and nasal."

"Would you recognize it again if you heard it?"

"Yes. But I haven't heard it since."

"What did you do during the excitement?"

"I was too horrified to do anything for a minute. Then people kept pushing in, and so I went across and took another slant at the fire-escape."

"Did you see anyone?"

"Not on the fire-escape itself, but two men were in the alley staring up at the hotel. I could see their faces."

"Two men—are you sure there were two?"

"Yes. Of course I am. I could see them plain. One was almost under the fire light."

"Miss Hale," said Langdon, clearly and calmly, weighing every word, as though he knew the sensation his question would create, "was that man who stood under the arc light dressed in a light suit with a red tie?"

"He was!"

The Flax Plant.

Linen is obtained from the flax plant, a small, delicate annual with a tiny blue flower. The plant is pulled by hand in the summer, the seeds, known in commerce as linseed, being removed and the straw subjected to various processes to separate the fibrous part, which constitutes the linen. First it is steeped in water and then passed through a drying and heating process on revolving wheels until all foreign matter is removed. It is then ready for manufacture.

Wagner a Paradox.

As an artist Wagner had unequalled genius. As a man, though generous, temperate and virtuous to an unusual degree, he also had extraordinary faults. He was egotistical and proud, prone to fierce enmities; he went to extremes in everything. A living paradox; impatient, irritable and nervous; noble and petty; never made a man more friends and more enemies. He was worshiped and hated. Taken all in all, musically he stands as the most notable figure of his age.—Dole's "Famous Composers."
